Host Institution Overview

OCTOBER 4-6, 2026

HILTON INNER HARBOR
BALTIMORE, MARYLAND

The Association for the Advancement of Sustainability in Higher Education (AASHE) is the leading nonprofit membership organization dedicated to advancing sustainability across higher education. Since its founding in 2005, AASHE has empowered faculty, administrators, staff, and students from hundreds of institutions across the United States, Canada, and beyond to become effective change agents and drivers of sustainability innovation on campus and in the broader community. AASHE provides indispensable resources, professional development, and networking opportunities that enable sustainability leaders to translate knowledge into action, accelerate institutional progress, and shape future-ready graduates equipped to address global sustainability challenges.

Event Overview

The AASHE Annual Conference & Expo is the premier annual gathering for sustainability professionals, educators, students and institutional decision-makers in higher education. This multi-day in-person event convenes 800+ attendees from institutions across North America and beyond to share best practices, advance strategies, and catalyze institutional sustainability transformation.

The program includes keynote presentations, interactive workshops, field reports, networking meetings, and an expansive expo hall showcasing innovative solutions, tools, and services that drive campus sustainability outcomes.

Why Partner with AASHE 2026 Conference & Expo?

Host Institution

Confirming as a Host Institution at the AASHE Annual Conference & Expo positions your institution at the center of higher education's sustainability movement. Host institutions gain direct access to a highly engaged audience of campus leaders, administrators, faculty, and solution-seekers who influence purchasing decisions and institutional strategy. Host institution partnership offers meaningful visibility, targeted relationship-building opportunities, and the ability to demonstrate your institution's commitment to advancing sustainability, innovation, and positive environmental and social impact within higher education

Exhibit

Amplify your institution's presence at #AASHE2026 by confirming as a featured exhibitor. Connect directly with key sustainability decision-makers in higher education, and engage in impactful conversations within the heart of the conference. Our simplified tabletop exhibit option eliminates the need for a full booth, allowing you to concentrate on showcasing your institution and connecting with attendees.
